Your Partner For Perfection

Supafloor electric heating cables are of unique ultra-robust design. The flexible ultra-tough outer insulation protects the copper element cores and continuous earth which provides maximum safety. The Supafloor range of cables are especially designed to be suitable for most types of new build floor construction.

Supafloor electrical heating is 100% efficient meaning less energy is required, reducing carbon emissions and having a positive effect on the environment.

Iceguard creates a safe environment during the Winter months

Iceguard heating cables prevent build up of ice and snow on traffic areas, driveways, footpaths, entrance zones and ramps

Iceguard can also be used to prevent frozen gutters, downpipes and external water pipes
